

Publishing with Palgrave

Education

Sarah Nathan

Editor

212-451-8426

sarah.nathan@palgrave-usa.com

Palgrave publishes cutting-edge scholarship that examines education in the lives of students, teachers and communities, covering all periods from early childhood through higher education. With an interdisciplinary focus on education and public life, critical studies and society, and global and postcolonial contexts for education, our titles bring the most current research to scholars, students, and everyone considering crucial questions in this field. Palgrave titles are a key resource for the academic community, educated readerships, and graduate and undergraduate classrooms.

Our titles engage higher education, comparative and international education, urban education, critical pedagogy, education theory, education policy, the history of education, education foundations, and more. They examine pressing questions by looking at curriculum, methods, new technology, the role of the school in society, and the role of the learner in order to provide first-rate scholarship on education in the world today. Our authors come from a variety of backgrounds and disciplines; what unites them is their dedication to providing rigorous, clear scholarship that changes the conversation.

What We Offer

Palgrave offers an unrivaled production, marketing, and publicity experience for authors of monographs, contributed volumes, and handbooks. With a full-service production experience taking as little as 21 weeks, Palgrave offers thorough copyediting, intuitive book design, and fully-integrated ebook packaging for all of our titles. Through our new service, Palgrave Connect, over 10,000 titles are offered in the humanities, the social sciences, and business to subscriber universities and institutions around the world. Our ebooks are available in collections organized by year of publication and by discipline, as well as through our recently-launched Build Your Own Collections model. New ebook titles are published simultaneously alongside print editions, and are uploaded into collections automatically upon publication. Our marketing teams provide targeted promotion of Palgrave titles, including reviews and outreach on traditional platforms and social media, while our global sales team reaches customers worldwide. A dedicated rights team seeks translations of our books into dozens of additional languages.

Introducing Palgrave ► Pivot

Palgrave Pivot is an innovative new format for scholarly research. Pivot offers authors the flexibility of publishing at lengths between the journal article and the conventional monograph (20,000 to 50,000 words on average). Titles are published within 12 weeks of acceptance with a complete peer-review process. Palgrave Pivot publications are available as digital collections for libraries, including via Palgrave Connect, individual ebooks for personal use, and as digitally-produced print editions. For more information, visit palgrave.com/pivot.

Series in Education

Series account for about half of all Palgrave education books published. We welcome submissions for our series but are happy to consider proposed titles on their own.

- Community Engagement in Higher Education (Dan W. Butin, editor)
- Critical Cultural Studies of Childhood (Marianne Bloch and Elizabeth Blue Swadener, editors)
- Curriculum Studies Worldwide (Janet L. Miller and William F. Pinar, editors)
- Digital Education and Learning (Michael Thomas, James Paul Gee, and John Palfrey, editors)
- Education, Economy and Society (Andy Green, Lorna Unwin, and Karen Mundy, editors)
- Education Policy (Frederick M. Hess, Martin R. West, and Lance D. Fusarelli, editors)
- Education, Politics, and Public Life (inactive) (Henry A. Giroux and Susan Searls Giroux, editors)
- Higher Education and Society (Roger Geiger and Katherine Chaddock, editors)
- Historical Studies in Education (William J. Reese and John L. Rury, editors)
- International & Development Education (John N. Hawkins and W. James Jacob, editors)
- Issues in Higher Education (Guy Neave, editor)
- Marxism and Education (Anthony Green, editor)
- New Frontiers in Education, Culture, and Politics (Kenneth J. Saltman, editor)
- Palgrave Studies in Excellence and Equity in Global Education (Roger Openshaw and Margaret Walshaw, editors)
- Palgrave Studies in Gender and Education (Yvette Taylor, editor)
- Palgrave Studies in Global Citizenship Education and Democracy (Jason Laker, editor)
- Palgrave Studies in Global Higher Education (Roger King, Jenny Lee, Simon Marginson, and Rajani Naidoo, editors)
- Palgrave Studies in Play, Performance, Learning, and Development (Lois Holzman, editor)
- Palgrave Studies in Urban Education (Alan Sadovnik and Susan Semel, editors)
- Palgrave Studies on Chinese Education in a Global Perspective (Fred Dervin and Xiangyun Du, editors)
- Philanthropy and Education (Marybeth Gasman, editor)
- Policy and Practice in the Classroom (Richard Race, Barba Read, and Alaster Scott Douglas, editors)
- Postcolonial Studies in Education (Antonia Darder, Anne Hickling-Hudson, and Peter Mayo, editors)
- Psychoanalysis, Education, and Social Transformation (jan jagodzinski and Mark Bracher, editors)
- Queer Studies and Education (William F. Pinar, Nelson M. Rodriguez, and Reta Ugena Whitlock, editors)
- Research, Policy, and Practice in Gifted Education [a Palgrave Pivot series] (Jonathan M. Plucker, editor)
- Secondary Education in a Changing World (Barry M. Franklin and Gary J. McCulloch, editors)
- South Asian Education Policy, Research, and Practice (Radhika Iyengar, Erik Byker, and Matthew Witenstein, editors)
- The Cultural and Social Foundations of Education [a Palgrave Pivot series] (A. G. Rud, editor)